I. MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF JUSTICE

Staff Evaluation: Early in the quarter on April 13, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie went before the Judiciary Committee for a performance evaluation called by the Committee, but it was rescheduled by the Committee. The Judiciary Committee conducted Chief Justice's performance evaluation at their regular meeting on June 3; however, the discussion and vote was tabled. On June 25, 2010, five members voted "unsatisfactory," one member voted "satisfactory," one member voted "very good," and one member was absent. The conduct of and the result of the evaluation demonstrates the need for legislation that establishes an independent body to select and evaluate judges free from political pressure.

Navajo Nation Supreme Court: During this quarter, Chief Justice Yazzie, Associate Justices Grant and Shirley, and Supreme Court law clerk LaVerne H. Garnenez met at least weekly regarding pending cases, upcoming oral arguments, motions and writs filed with the Supreme Court, and administrative concerns. The Navajo Nation Supreme Court heard three oral arguments this quarter, one of which took place on May 7, 2010, at Stanford Law School in Palo Alto, California (concerning EXC, Inc. v. Kayenta District Court, SC-CV-07-10). On May 28, 2010, the Supreme Court publicly announced the opinions in two landmark cases, Shirley v. Morgan, SC-CV-02-10, and Nelson v. Initiative Committee, SC-CV-03-10, at the Veterans Memorial Park in Window Rock, Arizona. The Court took this unprecedented step due to the great public interest and importance of these two cases which concern governmental matters.

Navajo Nation Supreme Court Judicial Complex Project: On April 1, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie met with Scott House from Design and Engineering Services regarding plans for a Supreme Court/Judicial Complex. The proposed facility would house the Navajo Nation Supreme Court, Window Rock Judicial District, Peacemaking Program, and the Administrative Office of the Courts. After evaluating proposals and interviewing several architectural firms, the selection committee chose VCBO Architecture from Salt Lake City, Utah, to design the proposed Supreme Court Judicial Complex using funds previously allocated by the Council for the planning and design for such a facility. On June 3, 2010, Associate Justices Grant and Shirley met with the selected contractor to discuss planning for the Supreme Court's portion of the complex project. The contract with VCBO Architecture is currently pending.

Presentations: Chief Justice Yazzie continued to promote the concept of Diné justice to the People and organizations through public meetings and presentations. On April 7-9, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie served on a panel entitled "Reviving the Role of Tribal Languages in American Indian Law” at the 35th Annual Federal Bar Association Indian Law Conference in Santa Fe, New Mexico. On May 12, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie participated in a video in collaboration with the Division of Social Services addressing Fundamental Law. On May 16-17, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie traveled to Phoenix, Arizona, to participate in the Blue Ribbon panel sponsored by the Division of Social Services. The panel addresses proposed legislation including the Diné Adult Protection Act, Violence Against Family Act, Child Welfare Implementation Act, and the Children’s Code amendments. On May 18-21, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie traveled to speak with the Council of Elders of the Mohegan Tribe regarding the Navajo Peacemaking system. On May 26, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie was interviewed on KTNN Radio about the Treaty of 1868. Chief Justice spoke on Fundamental Law during the Navajo Nation Chapter Officials Convention in Gallup, New Mexico, on June 9, 2010.

Navajo Nation Integrated Justice Information Sharing Project (NNIJISP): On May 24, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie met with Samson Cowboy, executive director of Public Safety, and Navajo Nation CODY administrators to discuss the further sharing of resources within the NNIJISP project, which will implement a case management system for the courts, prosecutors, probation, public defenders, and peacemakers, and interface justice information with the CODY RMS. Work continues on implementing NNIJISP at Shiprock Judicial District. Chief Justice Yazzie met with the NNIJISP Steering Committee on April 6, 2010, including the NNIJISP stakeholders from the Division of Public Safety, Department of Corrections, Judicial Branch, Office of the Public Defender, and Office of the Prosecutor.

Judicial Districts: Chief Justice participated in meetings regarding concerns and proposed projects at several judicial districts. Chief Justice attended the Pueblo Pintado Chapter meeting on June 8, 2010, regarding a proposed Torreon judicial district. On June 16, 2010, Chief Justice met with Judge T.J. Holgate on issues regarding Window Rock Judicial District. On June 24, 2010, Chief Justice Yazzie met with chief prosecutor Bernadine Martin regarding issues related to the Dilkon Judicial District. June 25, 2010, Chief Justice attended the probation and parole services quarterly meeting at Dilkon Judicial District. June 28, 2010, Chief Justice met with Judge Irene Black, staff attorney Curtis Heeter, court administrator Susie Martin, and Aneth service providers regarding the proposed community court at Aneth Judicial District.

Budget: Chief Justice attended the Budget and Finance Committee FY2011 budget work sessions on June 7 and 15. On June 15, Chief Justice attended the three branch chiefs’ meeting regarding the FY2011 budget. The Budget and Finance Committee allocated $12,806,229 to the Judicial Branch for FY2011. This is a drastic reduction from FY2010 and slices large sums from the Branch’s operating expenses. The Administrative Office of the Courts and all judicial district court administrators continue to meet and prepare the Branch’s FY2011 budget.

III. VISION, MISSION, AND STRATEGIC GOALS

VISION

It is our vision that the present judicial system, consisting of an adversarial-style tribal court system modeled on Anglo courts, a peacemaking system modeled on Diné original dispute resolution methods, and Probation and Parole Services, will fully embody the values and processes of the Navajo People, including family and clan-centered Navajo values. Our justice system as a whole will truly reflect the heart and soul of the Diné. It will be one that the People can recognize as their own and fully participate in the spirit of nábináhaazláago.

MISSION

The Judicial Branch will provide stability in the Navajo Nation government by providing court, peacemaking, and probation and parole services, to adjudicate cases, resolve disputes, rehabilitate individuals and families, restore harmony, educate the public, agencies, services and other governments in Diné bi beenahaz' áanii, and protect persons and property pursuant to Navajo Nation laws, customs, traditions, and applicable federal laws. Pursuant to Diné bi beenahaz' áanii, the Judicial Branch will carefully develop a justice system that fully embodies the traditional values and processes of the Navajo People.

STRATEGIC GOALS

- One:* As the Navajo Nation court, peacemaking, and probation and parole system, we will ensure the continued provision of efficient, fair, and respectful judicial services.
- Two:* We will ensure access to the judicial system by the public.
- Three:* We will address the infrastructure needed to maximize partnerships across branches, agencies, and communities.
- Four:* We will develop a judicial system in accordance with Diné bi beenahaz' áanii that fully incorporates Navajo values and processes.
- Five:* We will address facilities needs.

V. ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS

A. DIRECTOR OF JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

Judicial/Public Safety Facilities. Eight meetings were attended in Window Rock, Albuquerque, and by conference calls to communicate planning and design of the facilities for Tuba City, Arizona, and Crownpoint, New Mexico. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) grant of $38.6 million can only be used for construction of a corrections facility at Tuba City, Arizona. To construct court and law enforcement facilities at Tuba City requires the appropriation of non-ARRA funds. The Navajo Nation Council on January 28, 2010, approved a $60 million loan to pay for non-ARRA construction at Tuba City, Arizona, and to pay the full cost to construct facilities for corrections, law enforcement, courts, probation, peacemaking, prosecutors, and public defenders at Crownpoint, New Mexico. Three meetings have been held with the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Albuquerque, NM, to discuss and plan for their involvement in funding, planning, construction, compliance monitoring, and facility maintenance after construction. A resolution will be presented to the Navajo Nation Council during the Summer 2010 session for approval to demolish the court building at Tuba City. The amount of $113,070.00 is needed to cover the demolish cost. Two trailers used by the courts will have to be relocated to the site established for Department of Corrections and Department of Law Enforcement. Sales tax funds have been reserved to pay for the relocation, planning, parking area and utilities connections for the two trailers. Personnel working in the court building proposed to be demolished are to be relocated to a new temporary site during the construction period. Sales tax funds are reserved to pay for the site development, relocation of personnel, and lease of temporary facilities during the period of construction of the new justice facilities.

Meetings of the Judiciary Committee of the Navajo Nation Council. Personnel from the Administrative Office of the Courts attended scheduled meetings of the Judiciary Committee. Reports were shared with the Committee on judicial districts, Supreme Court, programs, and administrative office activities.

Government Audit Office – Washington, DC. The Director of Judicial Administration coordinated a courtesy visit to Window Rock on April 2, 2010. The group met with representatives of the Judicial Branch, Window Rock District Court, and Judiciary Committee to learn more about our legal system. They will issue a report to congressional leaders on their visit to tribal courts in the southwest. Some subjects discussed were: federal legislation sponsored by Senator John Thune, coordination between USDOJ and BIA with Navajo Nation public safety and courts, rate of declination of prosecution by federal prosecutors between 2005-2009, case studies on tribal courts, traditional and contemporary systems.

Executive Staff. The Chief Justice and Director of Judicial Administration routinely conduct executive and administrative meetings of directors, program managers, and court administrators to discuss general funds, P.L. 93-638, grant budgets, and administrative concerns. This is a time of sharing information on status of budgets, projects and assignments such as revisions of personnel rules, judge and employee evaluation processes, office reorganization, building projects, federal legislation issues and concerns, and implementation of grants.

District Court Judge Vacancies. The Administrative Office of the Courts is responsible for advertising judge vacancies and assisting the Judiciary Committee with screening applications and arranging interviews of applicants. The names of Lee R. Belone and Lawrence John have been referred to President Joe Shirley and are pending consideration for judicial appointment. Vacancies remain at Tuba City, Kayenta, and Window Rock. The Judiciary Committee continues to wait for President Shirley to submit names to the Navajo Nation Council for confirmation of probationary appointments.

Training Attended. Director of Judicial Administration attended a Rural Training & Technical Assistance workshop in Glendale, Arizona, on June 14-16, 2010. The purpose was to learn how to administer federal grants and process reports and approve expenditures.

Motor Vehicle Review Board (MVRB). MVRB met with two members of the Public Safety Committee and Highway Safety personnel to discuss mutual concerns on operator permits and special equipment. The Director of Judicial Administration and the Human Resource Director are members of the Navajo Nation MVRB. Appointed representatives from the Judicial, Legislative, and Executive Branches meet with personnel from the Navajo Nation Fleet Management Department. MVRB responsibility is to approve vehicle purchases, vehicle assignments, and to resolve numerous vehicle misuse/abuse complaints filed against operators of tribal vehicles. The Motor Vehicle Operator's Handbook is made available to all Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Branch managers and operators of tribal vehicles. There is a significant number of misuse/abuse cases handled by the MVRB each quarter such as routine unauthorized transportation between home and worksite, speeding, cell phone use, accidents, and unsafe driving.

Navajo Nation Housing Committee. The Director of Judicial Administration and the Human Resource Director represent the Judicial Branch on the Committee. Housing assignments are approved for tribal employees by representatives from the three Branches. Lack of housing for assignment is a major concern.

B. CHIEF PROBATION OFFICER (CPO)

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

The CPO and probation officers completed the majority of the probation module for the Judicial Branch case management system. As a part of this project, they continued to work on uniformity of forms.

The probation officers completed three in-house trainings: Emery Acorn Online Life Skills, Intoxilyzer 8000, and report writing.

The probation officers scheduled and participated in their respective district criminal justice meetings where local resources gather to share information and to develop more effective working relationships.

2. Other significant accomplishments

CPO made site visits to all districts to conduct case audits, identify areas needing improvement, and discuss training needs with probation officers.

CPO participated as a member in the NNIJISP grant project. She attended all presentations to assure that the probation module is included.

CPO attended court administrator meetings to keep current on court activities and events, including probation services.

CPO was introduced to the Community Court Initiative (CCI), a pilot project that Aneth Judicial District is modeling. The Navajo Nation Probation Services has an interest in the model and will be working closely with the project.

CPO attended meetings regarding the Navajo Nation Sex Offenders Registry Act (NNSORA), and, as a member, became informed of all updates and work sessions to implement the Act.

CPO attended meetings to design and finalize the probation section of the proposed judicial/public safety buildings in Tuba City, Arizona, and Crownpoint, New Mexico.

CPO attended the American Probation and Parole Association Symposium in San Diego, California. She learned about substance abuse, offenders, and alternative sentencing and its effectiveness. Further, she was given opportunity to discuss peacemaking and probation and how the two programs collaborate with one another.

3. District Narratives

Aneth

- Participated in an Aneth Community Court Initiative planning meeting to discuss the project with key stakeholders, staff, and CCI representatives.
- Gained valuable knowledge during the American Indian Judicial Conference to address a multi-disciplinary approach to the development of justice programs.
- Attended a judicial and law enforcement court process serving task force meeting in Farmington, New Mexico.
- Worked with adult and juvenile cases. Cases consisted of alcohol-related offenses and juvenile truancy issues. Referrals for counseling and follow-ups were made.

Alamo

- Participated in a presentation on the Navajo Nation Children's Code and personnel policy issues during staff development day in Los Lunas, New Mexico. Special guest Rhonda Tuni provided information on the Nábináhaazláago Initiative.
- Worked with local and border town service providers to establish relationships and to collaborate services with Navajo Nation, county, and state programs.
- Collaborated with the Alamo Navajo and Magdalena Public Schools in filing petitions for truancy through the Navajo Nation Office of the Prosecutor.
- Visited a juvenile client who is currently at the Camelot residential treatment center in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The minor is reported to be doing well and making positive progress. The minor is also in good standing and appears to be receptive to treatment.

Chinle

- Probation officer Bernita Dalton referred three juveniles to IHS counseling services for substance abuse assessment and screening.
- Attended four juvenile review hearings--two orders to show cause and two revocations.
- Facilitated the monthly criminal justice meeting at Chinle Probation Services for law enforcement, IHS counseling services, ADABI, workforce development, and Talbot House. A one-day conference in August 2010 for parents and community members is being planned.
- Assured that all clients were given adequate follow ups by office or home visits. Proper referrals were made for assessments as recommended.
- Probation officer Larry Tsosie made school and home visits in the Rough Rock, Black Mesa, and Pinon communities.
- Had a minor admitted to a rehabilitation center for 90 days.
- Referred three adults for in-patient residential treatment at NCI in Gallup, New Mexico. All three successfully completed the 60-day program.
- Referred one case to peacemaking. He participated in the session and the outcome was successful.
- Attended a hearing at Pinon Middle School regarding a juvenile client.

- Probation officer Dominic LaFontaine, through ADABI, assisted in the placement of a young mother and her child in the Safe Home Program.
- Made one referral to Arizona Project Challenge in Queen Creek, Arizona. Mr. LaFontaine is looking for a mentor for the minor upon completion of treatment. He will be seeking a mentor in the local area.
- Made daily referrals of clients to local resources, i.e., DBHS, IHS, NCI, and Circle Tree Ranch.

Crownpoint

- Probation officer JoAnn Holyan-Terry administered ten RBT-TV alcohol testing and eight quick screen drug testing. Five out of the eight probation clients tested positive.
- Helped a female client successfully fulfill her probation and CSW conditions. The Church Rock Chapter, where the client was assigned, observed her outstanding work performance and hired her as a permanent employee.
- Forty-six field visits were conducted from Little Water to Smith Lake, New Mexico, and surrounding areas in between.
- The Victim Impact Panel continued to be held on a monthly basis. Since its commencement, the program has been a success.
- Probation officer Sharon Willie, with assistance from DBHS, placed two probation clients in rehabilitation programs in Page, Arizona. She participated in monthly criminal justice meetings with attendees from criminal investigations, corrections, and law enforcement.
- The Crownpoint Teen Court has been an ongoing local program for juveniles and has proven to be beneficial and successful. Since its inception, juvenile cases have declined.
- Probation officer Marshall Benally conducted case reviews each month for all cases he supervised. Follow ups included compliance of probation conditions, CSW conditions, and court orders.
- Made contacts and assisted a former probation client from committing suicide. Mr. Benally diligently dealt with the client and made adequate judgment calls to assist his client through proper referrals to law enforcement and mental health services.
- Made unannounced field visits. Through these unannounced visits, Officer Benally found that concerns and issues pertaining to clients are better identified in addition to hearing from family and neighbors who have an interest in the client.
- Probation officer Charlotte Hood made visits to clients she assisted in getting admitted to 90-day rehabilitation programs at New Sunrise Regional Treatment Center in San Fidel, New Mexico.
- Participated in the Pueblo Pintado BIE school career day by setting up a booth and informing children about Navajo Nation probation and parole services.

Dilkon

- Dilkon Probation Services exceeded their close out cases this quarter.
- Through a scholarship, probation officer Arlene Begay was able to attend the "First Responders" training in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
- No field visits were done in this quarter due to budget restraints.
- One client successfully completed a 60-day discipleship program at an in-patient rehabilitation center in Cabazon, California.

Kayenta

- The probation and parole caseload has declined due to lack of referrals from the court.
- Probation officer Efelienna Yazzie participated in several trainings, i.e., Responding to Methamphetamine-Endangered Children in Tribal Communities; Hastoi Health Day; and Involuntary Civil Commitment.
- Probation officers conducted presentations to the general public during the 2010 Justice Day.

- Probation officer Genevieve Brady made numerous referrals to DBHS and mental health services, had three clients admitted for in-patient treatment at NCI in Gallup, New Mexico, and had 12 outpatient clients receive services from local programs.
- Worked with U.S. Probation Services to assist a courtesy case client admitted to in-patient rehabilitative program in Gallup, New Mexico.
- Worked with three students from Monument Valley High School in Kayenta, Arizona. Attended case staffing with counselors and support staff to assure that the students are in compliance. Thus far, consistent follow-ups were successful.
- Four drug screen tests were administered and two were negative. No alcohol testing was administered this quarter.

Ramah

- Probation officer Ellery Nez made numerous referrals of clients to DBHS. Three of his clients were admitted to in-patient programs at NCI in Gallup, New Mexico. An average stay by in-patient clients is 30 days before being discharged.
- Two male clients were admitted to in-patient programs in Page, Arizona.

Shiprock

- Probation officer Lucy Yesslith followed up on a client she referred to the Albuquerque Job Corps. She received positive feedback from the client's counselor and instructors. In addition, she was provided a tour of the facility and obtained information for future referrals.
- Officer Yesslith conducted a home field visit in Sanostee, New Mexico, on a client who failed to report for his sentencing hearing. She found that the client was hospitalized and had no one to report his condition to the court. Officer Yesslith provided the court a review summary explaining the client's situation.
- Probation officers Yesslith and Janice Harvey shared information on bullying, effects of domestic violence, making appropriate choices, and on probation services during a health fair at Northwest High School.
- Probation officers Yesslith and Harvey gave presentations on the role and responsibilities of probation officers during the annual justice day celebration.
- Probation officers toured the new Healing Circle Drop-In Center in Shiprock, New Mexico. Activities and peer support services are provided by the center; in addition, it provides a safe environment for clients to socialize.
- Probation officer Harvey participated in the Crimes Against Children in Indian Country Conference in Green Bay, Wisconsin.
- Probation officer Harvey assisted the Shiprock Marathon committee by taking CSW workers from detention to Mitten Rock to pick up trash along the marathon course.
- Probation officer Harvey located three juveniles who absconded from the system for noncompliance. She tried working with the juveniles but was unsuccessful and eventually had to file recommendations for revocation.
- Probation officer Lisa Poyer made numerous referrals to DBHS, Ina Counseling Services, Totah Behavioral Health Services, Advocate for Harmony, and other educational sessions. She referred a total of 48 clients for services.
- Two Quick Screen random testing were conducted; both tests turned out positive.
- Participated in the cross-services NNIJISP meeting regarding JustWare updates and implementation of a probation module.

To'hajiilee

- Probation officer Samuel Henio worked with NHA to provide counseling to tenants residing in the housing area. Areas of concern included truancy, curfew hours, public intoxication, and domestic violence.
- Attended a 40-hour "Violence Against Native Woman Is Not Traditional Conference" in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

- Participated in local resource meetings to discuss issues related to court and police jurisdiction with representatives of Alamo/To'hajiilee Judicial District, Laguna Courts, Governor's Office, and Navajo Department of Law Enforcement.
- Referred 31 clients to DBHS.
- Probation officer Henio was delegated as acting court administrator; in the interim, court clerk Pauline Shebala served as acting probation officer.

4. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To develop a uniform process for probation services.

To conduct ongoing in-house trainings for probation officers.

To actively participate in the development and integration of the NNIJISP.

To develop more positive, effective working relationships with outside entities and Navajo Nation resources.

C. DOCUMENT TECHNICIAN

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

The document technician prepared, organized, and scanned 2,056 documents, i.e., Navajo Nation Supreme Court closed civil case files for year 1991, grievances, and financial documents.

The document technician received six compact discs from Crownpoint Judicial District for safekeeping.

The document technician met with the court administrators to agree on the number of index fields to be used when archiving court records. The group reached a consensus to reduce the number of index fields from eight to five so that all districts are uniformed and to expedite the process of the microfilm digital conversion project with Matrix Imaging Products, Inc.

The document technician assisted the Judicial Branch Fiscal Office and Office of the Chief Justice on a standby basis by providing receptionist duties, i.e., answering telephone calls, taking and logging in messages, etc.

2. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To scan closed case files for the Navajo Nation Supreme Court.

To prepare, arrange, and scan Judicial Branch timesheets for year 2008.

To prepare, arrange, and scan vendor files for the Judicial Branch Fiscal Office.

VI. PEACEMAKING PROGRAM

A. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

Office technician Andrea Boyd completed probation and is now a regular employee of the Judicial Branch.

Navajo Peacemaking and Safe Schools Project. Core management team meetings held on a quarterly basis have been very successful. This quarter, the team communicated with Gaby Strong, Federal Grant Technical Assistance serving Navajo Peacemaking and Safe Schools Project, to obtain education and guidance. The Diné traditional researcher and peacemaking coordinator participated in a session on "Leading for Change."

The public health intervention sources continuum of care as it relates to each school being served. The staff learned about the three phases of participation in care by each provider. It was found for the Peacemaking Program the (1) systemic sustained relates to restorative justice implementing and sustaining cultural values and practices led by peacemakers and peacemaker liaisons by intensive intervention in the juvenile justice system; (2) organizational is the actual location of where services are being provided such as the district courts and peacemaking offices extending to the local communities and schools where peacemaking sessions are held; (3) direct services the peacemakers and the peacemaker liaisons provide to selected most challenging groups of students based on severity. The severity (majority, targeted, and select) is determined based on what students can accomplish for themselves. The majority of students are being provided group education along with their parents and peers. There are some targeted students. The targeted students receive group and individual intervention and guidance to help them make better choices. Finally, selected students are the most challenged. They receive more intensive intervention with one-on-one counseling. Their parents and other family members also receive intensive one-on-one intervention.

The evaluation of peacemaking services thus far in this project indicates that 33 students from Little Singer and STAR schools received services this quarter. Seventeen peacemaking sessions were successfully completed, thirteen are still receiving services, and three cases were withdrawn.

Based on services provided by peacemakers, it has been determined that there is a need for peacemakers to be trained as counselors to help them more effectively conduct peacemaking sessions.

Peacemaking Program Tribal Youth Grant/Peacemaking Youth Education and Apprentice Program. The peacemaking coordinator, bi-culture training manager, and Diné traditional researcher conducted two strategic planning meetings. The following plans were established:

- (1) Peacemakers will provide direct services to work on reducing the recidivism rate by providing prevention/intervention services in the community, at schools, and outside schools in the homes of students and their families. The project will provide delinquency prevention services and intervention for truancy and at-risk and court-involved youth and their families.
- (2) The Peacemaking Program will certify 30 peacemakers from 11 judicial districts as traditional counselors. These peacemakers will go through a rigorous process where they will undergo federal, state, and tribal background checks. Peacemakers will also be trained in traditional counseling methods, multicultural and western counseling techniques, case management, classroom engagement, family group decision making, Diné language and writing. The Peacemaking Program is focused on providing meaningful services where peacemakers will be able to engage in effective communication and counseling. This will be accomplished through certified peacemakers who will provide direct services to students and their families in the schools and communities.
- (3) In order to find peacemakers with ability to provide traditional counseling services, recruitment was accomplished, and, in the same process, several peacemakers were recertified by their respective chapter.

(4) The Peacemaking Program identified 11 reservations schools that will implement the project and receive counseling services. District peacemaker liaisons will work with schools in their respective district. These schools include Alamo High School (Alamo), To'hajiilee High School (To'hajiilee), Whitehorse High School (Aneth), Pinon Schools (Chinle), Fort Wingate Boarding School (Crownpoint), Seba Dalkai School (Dilkon), Ganado High School (Window Rock), Pine Hill High School (Ramah), Kayenta Community School (Kayenta), Shiprock Career Preparatory School (Shiprock), and Tuba City High School (Tuba City).

(5) The Diné traditional researcher participated in four meetings of the Navajo Nation Board of Education. The Peacemaking Program was able to obtain support from the Board to work with and support the grant project. The Board will be working directly with the schools.

The Diné traditional researcher met with Kee Ike Yazzie of Diné Education to provide guidance and education regarding the grant project. The meeting was to revise the Navajo Nation Truancy Regulations and to establish a community truancy board.

The Diné traditional researcher met with Superintendent Andrew Tah to identify problems at Tohatchi Schools and to identify resources and services available to students dealing with behavior issues.

The Diné traditional researcher met with Sylvia Jackson of Diné Language and Culture to request that two traditional practitioners from Diné Hatathli Association to work with the grant.

(6) The Diné traditional researcher provided education on the Peacemaking Program goals and vision regarding this grant to parents, community members, teachers, and students during Ganado Parent Day, Kayenta Youth Summit, Indian Wells Community summer employment program, and Tse Hotsoo Middle School.

Communication and Reports

- The peacemaking coordinator provided a progress report to the Judiciary Committee of the Navajo Nation Council during their meeting on April 2, 2010.
- For educational purposes, the staff of the Peacemaking Program attended the Navajo Nation Supreme Court oral argument in the Timothy Nelson vs. Joe Shirley case.
- The peacemaking coordinator participated in a budget work session in Grants, New Mexico. Discussed were the FY2010 general fund budget, P.L. 93-638 budget, annual conference, and an overview on how the upcoming budgeting needs to be planned for the program. Other topics included training needs for staff, equipment and supply needs, and the FY2011 budget process.

Trainings Provided to the Public

- During the Dilkon Judicial District 2010 Justice Day celebration, the bi-culture training manager provided training on traditional values as it relates to the adversarial system in the courts and how it is utilized by the Peacemaking Program as an approach in resolving disputes.
- Bi-culture training manager provided training on the Fundamental Laws of Diné to the public and the Soil and Water Conservation Board during a regular meeting at Hogback Chapter. The presentation focused on the importance of a leader's role related to traditional concepts for land use, homesite leases, and farming and grazing allotments.
- In efforts to improve the visibility of the Peacemaking Program, the Program initiated an outreach campaign. The traditional Diné researcher provided education presentations on the overall peacemaking services and also the Navajo Peacemaking Youth Education and Apprenticeship Program during the following events:
 - Provided education on peacemaking program services and the grant to students, parents, school administrators, and teachers during the Ganado Parent Day at Ganado Unified School District;
 - He and Window Rock peacemaker liaison provided education on peacemaking services and traditional dispute resolution process to students in grades 6 through 8 during the Tse Hootso Middle School Career Day;
 - Provided education on Navajo values, clan system, and peacemaking program services to approximately 120 students during the Kayenta Youth Summit at Kayenta Unified School District;
 - Provided education on peacemaking program services, careers related to the courts, and establishing family relationships using ké and clan system to summer employment students at the Indian Wells Community.

Additional Projects.

- The Peacemaking Program occasionally received invitations and/or requests from outside organizations and/or other Navajo Nation programs to provide information or presentations. The Diné traditional researcher provided technical assistance and education related to peacemaking services during the Education Leadership Project meeting at UNM Gallup Branch; this project had a session entitled "Culturally Appropriate Curriculum" where Sylvia Jackson gave a short presentation on truancy and Navajo Peacemaking.
- The Diné traditional researcher and the peacemaking coordinator provided education on the history, development, and services of Navajo peacemaking to visitors from the University of Washington and law professors from Afghanistan.
- The Diné traditional researcher attended a graduation ceremony for grant 10-477 case managers. He provided education on developing culturally based programs for native communities and spoke about the Navajo basket, ké, Navajo clan system, and the importance of Navajo language. He emphasized that these concepts are embedded by Diné People and used by the Peacemaking Program.

Trainings Provided to Judicial Districts. The bi-culture training manager provided training to Judicial Branch staff as follows:

- To staff of Ramah Judicial District on the Fundamental Laws of Diné as it relates to values in maintaining the Diné language in the workplace and at home, how it is a valued tool in communicating as well as the importance of maintaining and retaining our language.
- To Ramah Peacemaking Services on the fundamental laws and the importance of Diné language as related to the traditional concepts and perspectives in working with community people in providing peacemaking services. Two trainings were provided this quarter. This will be an ongoing process for peacemakers and public.
- To staff and peacemakers of Shiprock Judicial District on Diné language and Fundamental Laws of Diné. The training focused on usage, language concepts, and effective communication to the public.
- To staff of Kayenta Judicial District on Fundamental Laws of Diné and Diné language.

Services and Collaboration with Other Entities

- In collaboration with the Shiprock Division of Social Services and Shiprock Peacemaking Services, the bi-culture training manager provided guidance in producing an educational video about peacemaking. The video produced will be used to train the public, court staff, peacemakers, and social workers.
- The Diné traditional researcher assisted in maintaining and strengthening partnerships by participating in the Nábináhaazláago Initiative steering commission meetings.
- The Diné traditional researcher met with program director Mac Hall of the National Indian Youth Leadership Project, and staff of Division of Social Services regarding development of a video on peacemaking.

Technical Assistance to Judicial Districts

- The bi-culture training manager provided technical assistance by interpreting traditional laws related to peacemaking at Dilkon, Ramah, Window Rock, and Tuba City Peacemaking Services.
- The peacemaking coordinator and bi-culture training manager provided education on recertification of peacemakers, recruitment of new peacemakers, and the Navajo Peacemaking Youth Education Project during regular meetings of the Shiprock peacemakers at Burnham, Shiprock, and Nenanezhad, New Mexico.
- The peacemaking coordinator provided a presentation to the community on appointment of peacemakers, ethics, and responsibilities during a regular meeting of the Shiprock Chapter.
- The Peacemaking Program staff learned about the NNIJISP project by listening to reports and reviewing documents being revised and developed for the Peacemaking Program.

Problems and Needs. The progress of the Diné Law Project is stalled because of the lack of hardware and software which is necessary for the duplication and organization of the project material. An inventory of the material was completed at the beginning of FY2010. There were over 500 items that needed to be organized, reviewed, transcribed, and archived. A number of these items include cassette tapes, MBRs, and video cassette tapes. The Program lacks the hardware, i.e., ear phones, TV, etc., to begin the transcription process.

B. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To sponsor a strategic planning meeting for the Navajo Peacemaking Youth Education and Apprentice Project and to complete the training module on family group decision making for the curriculum commission.

To sponsor the annual peacemakers training and to educate new and recertified peacemakers on provision of effective peacemaking services to the public.

To recruit new peacemakers and to recertify peacemakers at the chapters and communities.

To provide community education to promote peacemaking.

To provide training and technical assistance to Judicial Branch staff, other Navajo Nation departments/programs, outside entities, schools, and the general public.

VII. NÁBINÁHAAZLÁAGO INITIATIVE

A. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

Members of the steering commission met on April 6, 2010. The commission was provided an overview of the Initiative project and sub-committee work products were presented, discussed, and tentatively approved for final submittal. These work products included strategic planning elements of vision, mission, and value statements, and duties and tasks for members of the steering commission, working sub-committee, and project staff.

Members of the working sub-committee met in April and May. The monthly meeting for June was rescheduled to July 27, 2010, due to the Children's Code public hearings being attended by committee members. Work products completed included final drafts of the vision, mission, and values statements, draft action plans for the data collection plan, final draft of the action plan for the case management assessment standards and service, and draft action plan for the collaboration plan.

On April 7, 2010, Division of Diné Education's truancy legislation team meeting was attended. Judicial and law enforcement statistical data was compiled, analyzed, and results provided to the team as assigned. The recommendation to have the draft truancy legislation introduced by the team leader at the next Children's Code taskforce meeting on May 5-6, 2010, was facilitated.

On April 19, 2010, members of the working sub-committee met to draft and submit final recommendations to the Children's Code taskforce regarding the proposed revisions to the Children's Code. On May 5-6, 2010, the working committee's analysis and recommendations was presented during the taskforce meeting in Phoenix, Arizona.

Program site visits were conducted on May 12, 2010, at Tohatchi case management office and on May 20, 2010, at Tuba City case management office. Monitoring findings were forwarded to case management supervisors for corrective actions to be taken addressing security, confidentiality, case management standards, operations, facilities, etc.

On May 25, 2010, the inaugural Native American Big Brothers Big Sisters (BBBS) Advisory Council met in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and was attended as an invitee. Program and council overviews were provided and a draft charter was introduced. A subsequent meeting was held to discuss the introduction of BBBS to the Navajo Nation.

From June 7-22, 2010, five out of nine public hearings were attended and public comments/position statements were provided to the Navajo Nation Children's Code taskforce members and the public in attendance based on concerns and recommendations from the working sub-committee membership. Public hearings held at Shiprock, Crownpoint, Fort Defiance, Alamo/To'hajiilee, and Window Rock were attended.

On June 11, 2010, the Children's Code recommendations were presented to district prosecutors and chief prosecutor including the recommended changes that allows other parties besides the prosecutors to file petitions primarily for CHINS and juveniles cases, and for minor offenses only. Little response was provided but the recommendations were acknowledged especially the information regarding the disparity between the high number of offenses and the low number of court cases filed.

Planning meetings have been held and preliminary Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) have been drafted between the Navajo Nation Judicial Branch and Department of Workforce Development, Office of Youth Development with Boys and Girls Clubs, Big Brothers Big Sister of Northern New Mexico, individually.

Collaborative outreach, networking and public awareness activities for local case management services were conducted with 46 multi-disciplinary agencies, programs, and organizations including:

- 1) Tuba City site: Department of Behavioral Health Services, Office of Youth Services and Boys & Girls Club, Department of Workforce Development, Indian Health Service Mental Health, Office of the Prosecutor, Probation and Parole Services, Alamo Judicial, KUSD #27, Tuba City public and boarding schools, justice summits, and local businesses.
- 2) Tohatchi site: Shiprock Department of Behavioral Health Services, Shiprock Office of the Prosecutor, Office of Youth Development and Boys & Girls Club, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Northern New Mexico, justice and law days, Division of Social Services, and Chinle Judicial District.

Status of completion of grant deliverables include:

- 1) Final draft of the case management assessment standards and services.
- 2) Preliminary outlines for action plans including goals, objectives, tasks, assignments, timelines addressing case management standards, data collection plan, and collaboration plan.
- 3) Preliminary draft of the data collection plan as part of the action plan.

B. Other significant accomplishments

The Tuba City and Tohatchi case management programs made 50 referrals for client-based services to multi-disciplinary agencies and programs such as behavioral health, schools, workforce development, health services, youth services, and others.

The Tuba City and Tohatchi case management programs participated in 29 multi-disciplinary teams staffing for case plans for detainees with team members from social services, behavioral services, schools, Indian health, workforce development, youth services, and others.

The Tuba City and Tohatchi case management office are equipped with donated office furniture and equipment, purchased printer/fax/copier/scanner equipment, DSL internet connection, telephone services, and office supplies.

There have been produced program meeting minute records for two case management staff meetings, one steering commission meeting, and two working sub-committee meetings for the Initiative grant project.

C. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

Steering Commission quarterly meeting tentatively scheduled for July 6, 2010, has been rescheduled to August 10, 2010. Sub-committee meetings are planned for the months of July, August, and September as monthly work meetings.

Strategic planning work products including outcomes, indicators, action plans, and timelines for a temporary collaboration plan will be completed. Continue formulation of agreements between collaborative partners, reporting and data collection, and case management assessment standards. Increase efforts for stakeholder attendance and involvement.

Provide informational fact sheets for Navajo Nation Council for the proposed Navajo Nation Children's Code that provides factual information and recommendations.

Finalize the case management assessment standards and services guidelines as required.

To finalize the draft of the data collection plan.

7. Accomplishments

Archiving of Supreme Court Cases. Archiving of 1990 and 1991 closed Supreme Court cases is 100% complete. After certification and approval, hardcopies of the cases will be destroyed. Additional cases will be delivered to the document technician for archiving in the next quarter.

Associate Attorney Activities. Associate attorney Josephine Foo participated in the NNBA 2010 Annual Conference, assisted the Supreme Court, continued to project manage NNIJISP, filed required grant reports on time, obtained several grant extensions and budget modifications on state and federal grants, and was primarily responsible for presenting Judicial Branch files to grant site monitors from the USDOJ Bureau of Justice Assistance, and New Mexico DPS Grants Management Bureau.

Navajo Nation Integrated Justice Information sharing Project (NNIJISP).

Web Demos – From April 7 to April 15, NNIJISP administrator Anthony Spencer and associate attorney Josephine Foo organized web-based screen demos for court, prosecutor, public defender, and probation services, and set up agencies for connectivity. At least 29 people benefitted from these demos.

Mandatory Prosecutor Work Session – On April 22, Mr. Spencer assisted Ms. Foo in leading a work session of 20 Navajo Nation prosecutors in Gallup, New Mexico, to address forms and Firewall share-hide protocols.

Shiprock and Window Rock Kickoff Meetings – Mr. Spencer assisted Ms. Foo in the planning and preparation for the CMS kickoff meetings on April 28–30 during which the integrated CMS was formally “kicked-off” to audiences of 100+ administrators and users, including judges and staff attorneys. Questions for the vendor included issues of privacy, security, accuracy, and ease of use.

Probation Work Sessions – On May 6, 12, and 21, Mr. Spencer represented NNIJISP at work sessions of probation services in which PPS discussed standardization of forms necessary for the rollout phase.

Community Court – On May 18, Ms. Foo organized and Mr. Spencer attended a community court/NNIJISP presentation at the Shiprock Court in which was discussed the support that can be given by NNIJISP to the restorative justice functions of such a court.

Training in Logan, Utah – On June 6–11, Mr. Spencer was part of a contingent of seven Shiprock users and administrators sent for a weeklong training on JustWare at New Dawn’s headquarters in Logan, Utah. This is the second time that Mr. Spencer traveled to Logan to receive a substantially different set of trainings. He returned qualified as a basic-level administrator.

Status Meetings – Mr. Spencer and Ms. Foo attended weekly telephone status meetings between Navajo Nation NNIJISP Project Management and the vendor’s PM team.

NNIJISP CODY Meetings – Ms. Foo organized and led meetings to better coordinate resources and issues between Navajo Nation Division of Public Safety, Navajo Nation Department of Information Technology, and NNIJISP.

8. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To complete data entry of cases in the appellate case management database.

To conduct monthly staff meetings to address management initiatives.

To archive closed cases.

To maintain the Judicial Branch website with current court-related information.

To review the proposed personnel rules and submit comments for final revisions.

B. TUBA CITY JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

General Staff Meetings. Three (3) general staff meetings were held this quarter. Judge Allen Sloan, staff attorney Tina Hatathli, and court administrator Alice Huskie provided updates on court operations and shared with the staff information on planned activities for the upcoming months.

Navajo Nation Judicial Conference. On April 30, 2010, Judge Allen Sloan, staff attorney Tina Hatathli, and court administrator Alice Huskie participated in the second quarter judicial conference in Window Rock, Arizona. Chief Justice Herb Yazzie facilitated the meeting and shared updated information on various program activities. New Dawn Technologies program manager Dave Wettstein made a presentation on the new court software program. Other reports included the proposed Violence Against Family Act, federal/tribal relationships on criminal cases, Navajo Nation sex offenders, the child welfare implementation project, and Diné Adult Protection Act. The districts gave reports on local projects, and human resource director William Nakai gave an update on the revision of the Judicial Branch Personnel Rules.

Navajo Nation Sexual Offenders Registry. Staff attorney Tina Hatathli represents the Judicial Branch on the Navajo Nation Sex Offender Registry Task Force. The task force received the software that will be used to develop a website to register and track sex offenders. The task force is working on legislation to be in compliance with the Adam Walsh Act. It is crucial that the task force develop a well structured legislation that will be implemented so that the Navajo Nation is in compliance with the federal mandate. The group is also contemplating on requesting a one-year extension to allow sufficient time to review and finalize the legislation before it is presented to the Navajo Nation Council for approval. The task force met several times during this reporting period. This is an ongoing project.

Administrative Orders. On May 25, 2010, pursuant to Administrative Order 25-2010, Judge Genevieve Woody was assigned to preside over case TC-CR157/158-2010, The Navajo Nation vs. Susan Hamren). On May 25, 2010, per Administrative Order 29-2010, Judge Thomas J. Holgate was assigned to preside over case TC-CR-029-2010, The Navajo Nation vs. Fred Begay. On June 4, 2010, pursuant to Administrative Order 30-2010, Judge Irene Black was assigned to preside over case TC-CR-236/237/238/239/240-2010, The Navajo Nation vs. Gilbert George. All judges are assigned to preside over these cases through final dispositions.

Hoozhóoji Óóí Daá (HOD). Staff attorney Tina Hatathli attended a HOD meeting. HOD is a group in the Tuba City community who focus on violence against women and families. The organization is working on reapplying for non-profit incorporation status with the Navajo Nation in addition to electing new board members. The group plans to apply for a grant to build a shelter in Tuba City for victims of domestic violence. Volunteer Sharon Iron has taken the lead to spearhead the project. The group is receiving some guidance from Page Domestic Violence Shelter to set up a similar program to one that is already up and running in Lechee, Arizona. Ms. Hatathli attended a PDVS meeting in Lechee to obtain information about how their response team works. The response team's primary duties are to assist victims after an act of domestic violence; they assist in areas such as transportation to doctor appointments, assisting with school issues, contacting social services, and transportation to court hearings. The group identified the need for data collection and obtaining statistics from the police department, courts, and the hospital. The group held several meetings where different service providers shared information about how their programs can help.

2. Other significant accomplishments

Service of Process Training. On May 14, 2010, Gwendolyn Williams, special project coordinator with the Office of the Prosecutor, provided training to individuals interested in becoming a private process server. The four-hour training on domestic violence was a prerequisite to serving documents utilizing the OVW Grant. With this initiative, more domestic protection orders are being served. Individuals from Tuba City attended the training. On June 3, 2010, Judge Allen Sloan and staff attorney Tina Hatathli provided a public training on "private process server." The public received training on rules of civil procedures, jurisdiction, purpose of service of process, due process rights, and duties and responsibilities of private process servers. From this training, three individuals registered as private process servers with the Tuba City Judicial District. Private process servers also serve domestic protection orders which is funded by the OVW Grant from the Office of the Prosecutor.

Public Training. On June 18, 2010, Judge Allen Sloan and staff attorney Tina Hatathli provided training for the general public on probate, quiet title, grazing, and land use permits. Casey Francisco from Bureau of Indian Affairs assisted with the presentation. Twenty-five people attended.

Domestic Relations Training. On June 25, 2010, Judge Allen Sloan and staff attorney Tina Hatathli provided training for the general public on domestic relations issues regarding marriage, dissolution of marriage, guardianship, and adoption. Fifteen people attended the training.

Judicial/Public Safety Task Force. Court administrator Alice Huskie participated in meetings with representatives of Dyrton Murphy Architects, project manager Arcadis, and CMAR Oakland Arviso to discuss schematic designs for proposed judicial/public safety buildings in Tuba City, Arizona, and Crownpoint, New Mexico. Discussions were lengthy, intense, and required a lot of negotiating among departments to downsize the square footage of the building to the required 112,000 square feet. Key stakeholders participated in numerous meetings throughout this quarter to provide input on usage of office space for the new building.

Criminal Justice Summit. The Tuba City Judicial District held two criminal justice summit meetings on April 16, 2010, and June 4, 2010. Judge Allen Sloan facilitated the meetings with coordination and assistance from staff attorney Tina Hatathli, court administrator Alice Huskie, and office technician Orlando Sam. One major issue and concern is with “service of process” and how to improve services at the district level. The core group consists of representatives from Navajo Department of Law Enforcement, Department of Corrections, Office of the Prosecutor, and the courts. Other local service providers that have an interest in delivery of services by the justice system also attend these meetings. With collaborative efforts, the group hopes to continue work on identifying how to share and streamline existing processes to better serve the community.

2010 Justice Day. On May 7, 2010, the Tuba City Judicial District held its annual Justice Day. Activities included an open house and a luncheon. More than 900 students attended the event. The public had an opportunity to meet the judge and visit the courtroom without the formalities of a court hearing. The public enjoyed a presentation on justice symbols. They learned why Lady Justice is blindfolded and learned about the meaning of the justice scale. The staff explained courtroom rules, the different types of hearings held by the family and district courts, as well as the types of cases referred to probation and peacemaking. The staff attorney provided a free legal clinic by providing options for individuals with questions. Overall, the turnout was excellent.

3. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To review court operations and processes to become more efficient.

To eliminate duplications of services by the court.

To have the staff attorney provide law classes so court staff can increase awareness on how the law relates to their work.

To archive more closed court cases.

To conduct service provider meetings to improve coordination of services for the criminal justice system.

C. KAYENTA JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

On April 1, 2010, the Kayenta Judicial District showcased its successful 2010 Justice Day celebration with focus on public education and community awareness on judicial services. Major features were educational legal information, service provider information booths, and a free luncheon for all participants.

In continuation of its 2010-2011 Navajo Law Classes, the Kayenta district staff earned 13 hours of continued legal education on Navajo Nation Probate Law, Navajo Nation Rules of Civil Procedures; and Navajo Language and Fundamental Law. The district was fortunate to obtain Judge Allen Sloan, staff attorney Curtis Heeter, and peacemaking training manager Roger Begay as instructors.

The 26-part series of classes are designed to give the district staff preeminent introduction to the Navajo Nation rules and procedures utilized in their daily duties and responsibilities.

Staff attorney Shawn R. Attakai earned 12 hours continuing legal education credits at the Federal Bar Conference on April 8-9, 2010, in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Staff attorney Shawn R. Attakai and peacemaker liaison Chester J. Stanley participated in a "Navajo Nation Resource Management Training" on May 3, 2010, in Shiprock, New Mexico.

Judge Jennifer Benally and staff attorney Shawn R. Attakai earned 16 hours of continuing legal education credits needed to fulfill the CLE training required. All of the courses taken were offered at the "Navajo Nation Bar Association 2010 Annual Conference," May 10-11, 2010, in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Probation officer Efeleina Yazzie participated in a free training entitled "Responding to Meth Endangered Children in Tribal Communities" on June 9-11, 2010, in Scottsdale, Arizona. The BIA Office of Drug Enforcement sponsored training on how to address coordination and cooperation between law enforcement, tribal child protection response system personnel, and agencies working with parents in meth recovery programs and services to children and families from methamphetamine environments.

The district probation officers benefitted from the "Probation Report Writing Training" on June 30, 2010, in Chinle, Arizona. The officers received information on how to improve their report requirements and writing styles from instructors Judge Geraldine Benally and staff attorney Curtis Heeter.

Given that there is a lack of jail facilities on the Navajo Nation, the job of the probation officers includes supervision and monitoring of defendant compliance with terms of sentencing. To ensure compliance, the Kayenta Probation Services conducted 12 unannounced home visits in the Navajo chapters of Chilchinbeto, Dennehotso, Kayenta, Kaibeto, and Oljato. Fortunately, these field visits lend opportunity to interview defendants and victims which are needed to complete court-ordered pre-sentence reports.

The Kayenta Probation Services facilitated three DUI defensive driving and domestic violence course for 66 defendants/respondents ordered by the court to attend. The negative effects and devastating impact of driving under the influence and domestic violence inflicted on families were emphasized in this course.

To enhance provision of quality services, the Kayenta Judicial District facilitated four collaboration meetings for area service providers. The meetings were successful in answering procedural and other inquiries posted by participating departments and agencies.

2. Other significant accomplishments

On April 30, 2010, Judge Jennifer Benally, court administrator Lavonne K. Yazzie, and staff attorney Shawn R. Attakai received Judicial Branch updates and learned new developments at the quarterly judicial conference in Window Rock, Arizona.

By invitation, peacemaker liaison Chester J. Stanley participated in the Monument Valley High School 4th Annual Parent Summit on April 30, 2010 in Kayenta, Arizona.

Peacemaker liaison Chester J. Stanley presented the Navajo Nation Peacemaking Program to a group of Kayenta Middle School students and parents on Saturday, May 1, 2010, in Kayenta, Arizona. Mr. Stanley provided education on the Navajo peacemaking process and peacemaking guidelines.

Judge Jennifer Benally gave a presentation at a Navajo Nation Department of Social Services-sponsored public hearing on the Navajo Nation Children's Code Revisions at the Kayenta Judicial District on June 16, 2010, in Kayenta, Arizona.

The district probation officers and office technician received updates in a quarterly probation meeting on June 25, 2010, in Dilkon, Arizona. Our new proactive chief probation officer Lucinda Yellowhair provided information on multiple projects and trainings for the probation officers.

A probation client was ordered to complete a presentation on alcohol abuse, child neglect and effects of domestic violence on children before a counseling group due to her history of alcohol abuse and child neglect. The recommendation was to help the client address her issues and share educational information to help others. The client was very nervous at the onset of the presentation, but once started, she surprised herself on the vast information she learned and was very thankful for the project in gaining her self-esteem.

Court administrator Lavonne K. Yazzie participated in a preliminary Navajo Nation FY2011 general funds budget meeting on June 29, 2010, in Window Rock, Arizona.

Peacemaker liaison Chester J. Stanley assisted in the certification and re-certification of five Navajo Nation peacemakers from the Kayenta Judicial District.

The Kayenta Judicial District probation officers participated in three Probation Case Management work sessions to collaborate and make recommendations for a probation software program within the new Navajo Nation Integrated Justice System Software project.

The court administrator facilitated and participated in ten days of Judicial Branch personnel rules team and court administrators' work sessions to address its assignment of finalizing draft revisions to the current personnel rules.

Court bailiff Brandyn Benallie provided training to the Tuba City Judicial District staff on the proper operation of the court digital recorders in Tuba City, Arizona.

3. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To advocate for the Judicial Branch of the Navajo Nation's fair share of the FY2011 Navajo Nation general fund budget funding to ensure the continued provision of efficient, fair, and respectful judicial services and facility needs on the Navajo Nation.

To commence and complete construction of the district peacemaking traditional hogan.

To conduct three in-service trainings for the district staff.

To conduct three peacemaking and probation services presentations for service providers and key representatives of schools in the communities.

To promote more positive and effective working relationships with the community, local law enforcement, and other public service organizations.

D. ANETH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

As a part of the Community Court Innovation Pilot Project, court staff contacted a total of 33 community resources as a part of its community mapping project. A survey is to be conducted to reach community members for their input of concerns and needs.

The court hosted its annual Justice Day on May 7, 2010. Local resources and the community received educational information on the peacemaking program, district court functions, and domestic violence protocol.

The court staff participated in the Kayenta District law class on May 5, 2010. The court clerks obtained valuable information on Civil Procedures-Part I presented by Judge Allen Sloan of the Tuba City Judicial District.

Court administrator Susie Martin participated in the FY2011 Navajo Nation budget orientation on June 25, 2010, at the Navajo Nation Education Center in Window Rock, Arizona.

2. Other significant accomplishments

On April 30, 2010, Judge Irene S. Black, staff attorney Curtis Heeter, and court administrator Susie Martin participated in the second quarter judicial conference hosted by the Window Rock Judicial District. Attendees participated in discussions on NN Sex Offender Act, NNIJISP, the Garnishment Act, Adult Protection Act, Employee Policy and Procedures update, and federal and tribal relationships on criminal cases.

In efforts to collaborate with resources, staff participated in a community resource meeting hosted by Utah Navajo Health System of Montezuma Creek, Utah, on April 2, 2010.

Staff participated in six telephone conference meetings with representatives of Red Hook Community Justice of New York: Community Court Innovation (CCI), Aaron Arnold and Brett Taylor. Participants provided updates on the progress of the community court pilot project and to plan the community service providers meeting.

On April 13, 2010, Judge Irene S. Black instructed a work session for the Aneth district peacemakers on "How to Write a Report" as a continual training and education work shop for the district peacemakers.

On April 16, June 17-18, and June 22-25, 2010, court administrator Susie Martin and staff attorney Curtis Heeter participated in the continuation of the Judicial Branch Personnel Policies and Procedures (EPP) revision.

In preparation for the FY2011 budget process and to ensure appropriate fiscal budget management of the FY2010 budget, the Navajo Nation Judicial Branch court administrators met with fiscal representatives and the Director of Judicial Administrator in Grants, New Mexico, during the week of April 21-23, 2010.

On May 3, 2010, Judge Irene S. Black, staff attorney Curtis Heeter, and peacemaker liaison Stanley Nez received eight hours of training on "Land and Grazing Permit Use" during a peacemaking work session at the Shiprock District Court.

The court staff, in conjunction with CCI representatives Aaron Arnold and Brett Taylor, hosted two community education collaboration meetings. The first meeting on May 18, 2010, was held at the Shiprock District Court to encourage participation from Navajo Nation prosecutor's office, law enforcement, public defenders, and corrections. The second was held on May 19, 2010, at the Aneth Chapter House making it available to community members, local service providers, and criminal justice representatives.

Aneth court clerk Darlena Mustache participated in the "Domestic Violence Private Process Service" training held on May 25, 2010, at the BIA Complex in Shiprock, New Mexico.

On May 27, 2010, staff attorney Curtis Heeter conducted a presentation on "Civil Procedures-Part II" during the Kayenta Judicial District's law class in Kayenta, Arizona.

Judge Irene S. Black and staff attorney Curtis Heeter participated in the Navajo Nation Bar Association 2010 Annual Conference in Albuquerque, New Mexico, from June 9 to June 12, 2010.

Probation officer Bettina Norton participated in a Domestic Violence Process Service meeting on June 18, 2010, in Farmington, New Mexico.

On June 22, 2010, court administrator Susie Martin participated in the "Capacity Building Training for Grant Writing," in Chinle, Arizona.

On June 23, 2010, the court administrators and human resource director William Nakai presented the revision progress of the Navajo Nation Judicial Branch Personnel Policies and Procedures to the Judiciary Committee Sub-Committee.

On June 28, 2010, Chief Justice of the Navajo Nation Herb Yazzie met with the Aneth District staff to receive updates on the community court innovation pilot project.

Staff attorney Curtis Heeter provided training on "Report Writing" to Navajo Nation probation officers at the Chinle Judicial District on June 30, 2010.

3. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

To complete and submit the FY2011 district budget for Aneth Judicial District.

To complete one in-service training for the Aneth District staff.

To conduct two staff meetings for the Aneth District staff.

To provide training on the revised Navajo Nation Judicial Branch Employee Personnel Policy and Procedures Manual.

E. CHINLE JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

Annual Justice Day. On April 16, 2010, the Chinle Judicial District celebrated its 2010 Justice Day with a short program, luncheon, open house, and information booths by other departments/programs. The staff enjoyed the festivities and meeting people. The public, as well as court staff from other districts, enjoyed a luncheon of mutton stew, fry bread, and cake.

Expansion of Pinon Court. Judge Cynthia Thompson and court administrator Vanessa Mescal participated in meetings with Pinon Chapter officials on establishment of court services and law enforcement in District 4. Currently, boundary lines are being identified which includes land markers and Hopi Tribe boundary lines. Also, chapters to be included in this new district will be informing their constituents and submitting supporting chapter resolutions. Schematics of the buildings are also in progress and will be shared with participants.

Special Division Court. Judge Leroy Bedonie and staff attorney Rod Begay continued to participate in the Special Division Court. They attended one hearing this quarter and held numerous telephonic conferences with other judges and staff attorneys.

Elderly Protection Act. Judge Leroy Bedonie and staff attorney Rod Begay participated in discussions regarding proposed changes to the Elderly Protection Act. The final product will be forwarded to the oversight committee of the Division of Social Services for approval.

Navajo Nation Child Welfare Implementation Project. Judge Cynthia Thompson participated in ongoing discussions of the Navajo Nation Child Welfare Implementation Project. She attended a couple of meetings as well as participating in telephonic conference calls.

Revisions of the Judicial Branch Personnel Rules. Staff attorney Rod Begay and court administrator Vanessa Mescal actively participated in discussions on revisions of the Judicial Branch Personnel Rules. The finalized document is scheduled to be presented to the Judiciary Committee Subcommittee in the next quarter.

2. Other significant accomplishments

Quarterly Judicial Conference. The judges, staff attorney, and court administrator attended the quarterly judicial conference in Window Rock, Arizona. The judges participated in discussions on various issues with other judges and the Chief Justice.

Local Resource Meetings. The judges and court administrator continued to facilitate meetings with local resources, specifically law enforcement, corrections, prosecutors, and school officials. Discussions included concerns and issues by other departments and working on resolutions to address such concerns and issues.

NNIJISP Participation. Several court clerks and probation officers participated in NNJISP presentations to provide input on the JustWare case management program, view demonstrations, and obtain information on the benefits and features of the JustWare. The judicial district is scheduled to be next in the implementation of the NNJISP network.

Criminal Justice Meeting. The Chinle Probation Services facilitated a couple of meetings with local service providers in addressing concerns within the community. Judge Cynthia Thompson and court administrator Vanessa Mescal participated in these discussions.

National Judicial College. Judge Cynthia Thompson completed a two-week “General Jurisdiction” course at the National Judicial College in Reno, Nevada.

Staff Development. The staff participated in its annual staff development day in Wheatfields, Arizona. The outing allowed staff to regenerate their energy, relax, and enjoy time with one another away from the work environment.

Navajo Nation Bar Association 2010 Annual Conference. The judges, staff attorney, and court administrator obtained their required continuing legal education (CLE) hours during the NNBA Annual Conference in Isleta, New Mexico.

3. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

The Chinle Judicial District judges, staff attorney, and court administrator will participate in meetings with service providers and the Chief Justice.

The Chinle Judicial District will work toward meeting its performance criteria goals.

The court administrator will provide technical assistance to the court clerks, bailiffs, probation officers, office technicians, and custodian.

The peacemaker liaison will attend meetings to promote peacemaking and assist in scheduling training for staff and peacemakers.

The probation officers will conduct field visits as ordered by the judge(s) and complete field studies and reports on behalf of clients.

The probation officers will seek services from other service providers within the Chinle Agency for their clients.

The probation officers will work closely with the chief probation officer (CPO) on the Navajo Nation Probation Services’ goals and objectives and complete assignments given to them.

F. DILKON JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

The Dilkon Court staff made preparations for the FY2011 general funds budget process. Budget hearings are scheduled, and the district is waiting to present its proposed budget using the allocation given to the Judicial Branch this year. It will be another challenging year.

Several staff in-service trainings were held this quarter to exchange pertinent information regarding the operations of the court and traditional/fundamental law to become more efficient and to continue staff motivation and effective working relationships. Training is an ongoing effort to be conducted each quarter.

The Dilkon Judicial District successfully completed the 2009 Annual Case Certification.

This year’s Justice Day--held April 1, 2010--was combined with the Division of Social Services-Family Services’ “Child Abuse Prevention and Sexual Abuse Awareness” month. The event was kicked-off with a fun walk, information booths by local service providers, a short agenda with guest speakers, and youth participation with the program. Refreshments were served throughout the event.

To complete the 2009 caseload certification and submit it to the Office of the Chief Justice.

To plan the ground breaking ceremony for the proposed one-stop-shop justice center.

J. RAMAH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishments of objectives set the previous quarter

The Ramah peacemaker liaison was successful in getting three new peacemakers appointed by the Ramah Chapter. Peacemakers Mae Pino, Thompson Martine, and Joseph Martine were certified by the Ramah Chapter and orientated on their duties and responsibilities. The Ramah Judicial District now has eight appointed peacemakers.

2. Other significant accomplishments

The Ramah District conducted weekly management meetings with the court staff on Monday mornings. These meetings help address personnel work and other scheduling for the week as well as update staff on matters of importance. Regular staff meetings are held once a month to address policies and procedures and to update staff on items of concern to the courts. On occasion, staff meetings are combined with a potluck to provide staff opportunity to interact informally and socially.

During daily court operations, staff maintained constant contact with the service population, including local service providers, prosecutors, attorneys, legal services, social services, police officers, and community members in general. The court staff maintained a daily check out log for police officers, social services, and prosecutors for all incoming and outgoing mail. The staff also maintained a mail log of all incoming/outgoing mail and sign-in sheets for parties coming before the courts. Phone and fax logs were also maintained daily.

During this quarter, 465 people signed in for services, 1,794 telephone calls were received, and 2,007 incoming/outgoing fax documents.
